GP Collective action infographics / posters

We have created Lincolnshire infographics for you to use on your social media and websites to highlight GP collective action and to direct patients to further information to help their understanding and aim to generate support for the actions you are taking.

We hope that these, in combination with the LMC collective action patient leaflet we sent to practices in August and the letter for MPs we sent earlier today, will give practices a robust foundation for discussions with patients.

Please let us know what other communications and infographics you would like to see.

We have attached the infographics along with some words you may want to attach to social media and website posts below.

Lincolnshire General Practice Alert State

Each week the LMC sends out a General Practice Alert State (GPAS) to practices. We understand everyone is really busy and it is another job to add to your ever-growing to do list. However, it would really help us an LMC to have information from as many practices as possible. A few points below that may help clarify how the data is collected/used.

Why should I bother to fill it in it makes no difference?

- The GPAS data is used to show the system how much pressure general practice is under. Without the data we can tell the system repeatedly how much pressure general practice is under but without the data it goes unrecognised
- The LMC is currently working with the ICB to create a system response for struggling practices, however the system response would only be triggered at practice request

Who can complete the GPAS return?

- It doesn't have to be completed by a Manager, an admin/data person within the practice can complete the return each week they can also nominate a deputy for when they are away.

If you've not received your GPAS request or need some more help, please email info@lincsllmc.co.uk.

So please can your practice spare two minutes to complete the return each week.
